The accompanying pictures illustrate two methods of exercising children crippled by infantile paralysis recovered child for the extraction of serum. Authorities on the disease hold that the blood of recovered sufferers contains an immunizing agent which can be obtained from the serum of blood and used effectively in treating patients. Volunteers have come forward to offer their blood for this purpose. Among

R. R. COMMITTEE MAKES STATEMENT

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 29. — The committee of railway presidents issued a statement today to the public, in which they outline their position.

They said they were unable to grant the demands of the men without arbitration and were unable to agree with the proposal of President
Wilson that they accept without arbitration the substitution of an eight-hour day for the present ten-
hour day.

They say the demands have been presented for the real purpose of accomplishing an increase in wages
of approximately $100,000,000, or 3g per cent, for the men represented in the four unions which are demanding the changes.

They add that the men not represented by the brotherhoods number at least 80 per cent of the railroad employees, and that these have
no voice in the demands.

They say also that in justice to these men, and to the corporations
and individuals who have invested in railway securities and who are vitaly interested in the solvency of
the roads, that they cannot yield
without arbitration.

They also call attention to the present situation in this country
and point out what they see to be disastrous effects to industry and commerce and to the national life
if the demands are granted or a strike is called.

The opinion is expressed that the public will be satisfied with arbitration, but with nothing else.

They say that the demands could not be granted without an increase in freight rates or the bankruptcy
of a number of the railroads.

CONGRESS ADDRESSED BY PRESIDENT WILSON PLAN IS PRESENTED

Believes 8 Hour Day Will Come as Result
of Demands of Union and of Society.

MAKES RECOMMENDATION AND LEAVES METHOD TO CONGRESS

Asks Power to Draft Men Now in Dispute
in Event Nation Takes Over Railroads as Military Necessity.

Washington, August 29. — (By Associated Press Dispatch)—President Wilson laid the railway strike situation before Congress at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, in an address to both Houses, assembled in joint session.

The President told Congress of his efforts to get the railroad managers and the men into some sort of agreement, and,
saying he was powerless to do more, he asked Congress to enact certain specific legislation to deal with the situation now and in the future.

POINTS OUT THE DISTRESS

Pointing out the distress and hardships which a nationwide strike would bring upon the country, declaring that he regarded it as a "practical certainty" that the railroads would be "ultimately obliged to accept the eight-hour day by the concerted action of organized labor, backed by the favorable judgment of society," and that he recommended the establishment of an eight-hour day as the legal basis alike of work and wages in the employment of railroad workers, the President asked Congress to empower him to draft into the service of the United States the very managers and men who have been unable to adjust their differences, so that the Government, may operate the railroads in case of military necessity.

WILSON'S PROPOSALS TO CONGRESS

The President proposed that Congress:

First—enlarge the membership of the Inter-State Commerce Commission to equip it to deal with large situations;
Second—that an eight-hour day be established for all trainmen in inter-state commerce;

Third—that a commission investigate the effect of the eight-hour day, but without recommendation, that the public may learn the merits of the question;

Fourth—that the Inter-State Commerce Commission consider the increased cost of the eight-hour day in making rates and,

Fifth—amend the mediation law to prevent strikes or lockouts while industrial disputes are being investigated.

The sixth proposal was that the President be empowered to operate the railways in case of military necessity.

How these recommendations are to be carried out, President Wilson left entirely in the hands of Congress.

WILL STRIKE ON LABOR DAY

The brotherhood leaders have called the strike for 7 a.
m. Labor Day unless a favorable settlement is reached before that time.

How to Choose the Jewels to Accompany the Fall Wardrobe.

"Choose your new jewels to suit your new Fall gowns." The edict reads, "or" it adds to the contrary "choose your new Fall gowns to harmonize with your own cherished pendants, bracelets, rings and brooches. Anyway, it means, be sure not to forget that your jewels are intended to be worn with your new gowns, and when you think of one also remember the other.

It may seem odd at first to say, "I must have new jewels to wear with that Oriental-looking affair," or "My set of amethysts never will blend with that silk of green-blue sheen, so I will choose a purple-blue shade instead."

But it becomes second nature after a while, and you will no more think of selecting your jewels in a haphazard, happy-go-lucky manner than you would think of being careless about the color or fit of your socks and slippers or the style and shape of your hat.

And it matters not a whit whether you are to have a dozen glorious creations for your evening needs, or this coming Fall or only a single simple frock to meet all obligations, the rule holds and the principle is for beautiful jewels.

need? Yes, pink coral is my choice, and I shall have it mounted in a pretty silver necklace." Wise was she, and so you will be if, when you decide upon your Fall wardrobe, you give a little time and thought to your jewels.

First Fall Fashions in Evening Gowns.

The importations are arriving just now, and, while they will be the last to be used the evening gowns cry for first attention as they really are of far greater importance as a fashion forecast than any afternoon frock or tailored suit ever aspired to be. They control the coming colors, the trimmings and the silhouettes. They dominate the fashion world from all points of view, and so they are given first place on our fashion list.

What the first illustration tells is of very grave import, and its secrets are many, although being in black and white, in place of the original brilliant colors, the secrets must be read about instead of seen.

It is in cloth of gold, this splendid evening gown, with a basque—that is one of the momentous signs, one of the ear-marks of the very, very newest in frocks for all occasions.

The sapphires of the handsome jewels make the contrasting color in the costume the only color in fact other than the glowing gold of the metal fabric, the gown being, like so many of the latest importations from Paris, so gorgeous in itself that it is unnecessary to add any colorful trimming. It is this same attribute, the solid tone, that makes the gown such an excellent backing for beautiful jewels.

Fig. 2—Party Frock With Platinum Set Emeralds and Diamonds.

The diamond encrusted necklet shown in this third photograph is especially note-worthy. It is one of the forerunners of the coming Winter's jewelry styles and as such demands notice. This is the jewel that will be used morning, afternoon and evening during the Fall and Winter, in differing patterns of a variety of materials, of course, according to appropriateness and suitability, but in form it will be the same as the necklet pictured here, a narrow bejeweled circle with a pendant detail.

The variations on this theme will be found in the depth of the band, the material of which it is composed and in the placing of the eyes, glasses without their intrusion, pendant ornament which may be of the elegance of her costume. Beautiful lozenges are being designed for milady's use this Fall and they will be more fully described within a short space of time.

four square plaque making the circle and three strands of diamonds, the central one finished with a great pear-shaped gem, making the pendant.

These necklets will be much used even when furs are worn, as they give the wanted brilliancy below the face without the bothersome effect of a loose hanging la Valliere (or necklace) and except for the very closest of neckpieces furs will not hide such a necklet from view.

The disk-shaped pendant on the long diamond chain shown in the photograph is a really a disguised lozengette—a clever device, for it enables the material of which it is composed and in the placing of the eyes, glasses without their intrusion, pendant ornament which may be of the elegance of her costume. Beautiful lozenges are being designed for milady's use this Fall and they will be more fully described within a short space of time.

All three photographs show won-

the same; for one little pendant has just as much right to be appropriate as have a whole set of fine jewels.

A dainty little maid with an eye for the future and love of the artistic fitness of things has chosen her birthday jewelry to match her next Winter's dance frock. "For," said she, "I have determined to pink for my best this Autumn, and why should I be forced to give thanks for turquoise or lapis when coral is what I want, and really

Speaking of solid colors the new American beauty shade, a deep but softer rose than the old silks and satins showed with a bloom on it like a red plum skin, makes a marvelous foil for the rich violet tone of the darkest amethyst. Then there is an odd and striking combination when cornflower blue sapphires are used, or a lustrous plum velvet of pale lavender, that, too, will be seen this Fall.

The narrow necklet with the fascinating pendant is something new, and, hereby take a hint, it is most wonderfully becoming. So is the la Valliere in the second picture new with the broad-topped, long pointed pendants and it also is becoming but to quite a different type of beauty as you see.

Two square headed pins in tortoise shell set with diamonds, are used in the coiffure, while in the first photograph a new bandeau is shown and in the third picture a pendant hangs from the band surrounding the high dressed hair.

White, ornamented sparsely with embroidery in beads, is used for the second dress and for the third, sequins emphasize the prevalence of all bead and spangle materials and trimmings among the seasons offerings.

This gorgeous gown is formed entirely of electric blue spangles, a wondrous hue, reflecting a million glittering lights. Diamonds show to advantage on such a ground but only the biggest and finest can stand the test, as the rivalry is too severe on any gems not having the greatest brilliancy.

The gown is cut in one of the new fitted patterns, almost a Princess, but not quite, and therein lies the difficulty when a copy of such a Paris gown is to be made, it is that something called style and a most elusive something it is.

The Aurora Borealis

It is not often that the mysterious Aurora Borealis, or "Northern lights," may be seen in this latitude.

There are many people hereabouts who yet doubt that the wonderful and beautiful ribbons of light extending from the magnetic pole to the dome of the heavens were visible here last Saturday night. The announcement by responsible citizens that the Aurora Borealis was visible Saturday was received with a look of incredulity by those who were not fortunate enough to be gazing at the northern sky late Saturday night. That look, however, as the number of witnesses to the occurrence multiplied in numbers without decreasing in responsibility, was replaced by one of disappointment.

The heavens provide many marvelous, beautiful and awe-inspiring sights. But there is something about the brilliant Aurora Borealis which makes it supreme to all.

Our earliest impressions of physical geography are the pictures of the Aurora Borealis and St. Elmo's fire.

Nearly every one of us has some interesting incident to relate in connection with the northern lights which has impressed the appearance on our mind and lends added charm to our recollection of when "we saw them."

One of our citizens Monday morning related how when he was a boy on the farm, in the dead of night one man went the rounds to rouse all the neighborhood to see the Aurora. Of course, he never forgot the incident. Those many folks who were early to bed Saturday night because it was cool and pleasant to sleep missed a treat which nature does not often provide in this latitude.

Taxation Problems

Perhaps some day there will arise, in Ohio a man who possesses the ability, the courage and the independence to suggest and to secure the adoption of a just and efficient system of taxation.

That the present system is all wrong in principle and in results attained is a fact conceded by everyone.

That it would be vastly improved, by men now in public life, if political expediency was cast aside, is denied by few people who are at all watchful of events and conditions.

There is no problem of the public service which should be kept freer of politics than the one of taxation and, unfortunately, there is no problem so cursed by politics and no problem so joggled by politicians as taxation.

When some change really worth while is made or suggested, the designing politicians and the demagogues seize upon it as an opportunity, by advocating its destruction, to elevate themselves to power.

People are perhaps more suspicious, more jealous of taxation than of any other governmental function.

The right of the state to tax has always, since earliest history of governments, been regarded as an encroachment upon private rights.

Having been misled and deceived so often the people have become, apparently bewildered on the subject of taxation and are as likely to take up with the unsound proposals as they are with the sound doctrine.

Nine tenths of our ills in taxation matters come from deception by public officials and law makers.

If politicians on all sides would only allow taxation to be settled, settled right and stay settled, they would save themselves annoyance and humiliation and the people a vast amount of money.

Roumania Enters War

The long expected has occurred. Italy has been forced by the entanglements of the Balkans campaign to declare war on Germany and Roumania, with her army of nearly a million veteran soldiers ready to take the field, has cast her lot with the side of the Entente Allies.

Experts have long foreseen the happening of both events. In fact the wonder has been that Roumania could so long remain outside of the vortex of war which raged on every side and that Italy could be engaged in war with Austria, while at the same time maintaining a form of peace with Germany.

The developments of the past week seem to prophecy with certainty the entrance of Greece into the struggle.

Thus does the diplomacy of the Entente powers, so woefully impotent in the Balkans at the time the first campaign against the Dardanelles was launched, triumph over the German.

The declaration of Roumania is by far the most important happening of the week in the war. With Roumania actually engaged the Bulgars are surrounded by hostile nations with only Turkey as a friend in the terrible struggle which rages in the Balkans.

Russia is thus afforded an opportunity to cut through Bulgaria and send her armies into the war zone.

The maintenance of neutrality by Greece becomes now almost an impossibility and, in view of the recent outrages committed by the Bulgarians against the Greek armies, an alliance with the Central powers seems unlikely.

Poetry For Today

KEEP UP YOUR PLUCK.

Keep up your pluck and take another hold.
Don't whimper; it is useless to complain.
Fortune still deals her favors to the hold.
There's never loss but somewhere is a gain.

While you have left your body and your brain,
In spite of all misfortune, be consoled.
There's always hope while these you still retain.
Keep up your pluck and take another hold.

The world to you may seem both hard and cold,
And yet it is a good world, in the main;
If sympathy is in small measure doled,
Don't whimper; it is useless to complain.

With cheerful smiles conceal the hidden pain,
Leave your vexations and your wrongs untold.
Fight, but if beaten from weak tears refrain.
Fortune still deals her favors to the bold.

Oh, those invertebrates who fret and scold,
Make faces at the cup they have to drain,
Dumbly despair at loss of land or gold!
There's never loss but somewhere is a gain.

Be vallant. Bound, then strive to break the chain.
That binds you. Show yourself of iron mold.
Sit down and weep and you will weep in vain.
Work manfully and fate may be controlled.

WRITER AIR MEN.

New York Aviation Club Has a New Preparedness Plan.

WOULD BE USEFUL IN WAR.

J. C. Mars, Who, With Augustus Post, Will Be In Charge of Training School, Believes They Could Fill Important Missions For Government.

New York.—New York will soon have a corps of newspaper aviators, according to the plans of the New York Flying Yacht club, whose officials have offered to give courses in aviation to all newspaper men capable of becoming aviators. The club recently received permission to use the North river water front at One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street for a landing stage for hydroplanes and aeroplanes, and floats, hangars and machine shops will be erected there in the near future.

J. C. Mars and Augustus Post, aviators, will be in charge of the training school for newspaper men, and, with Francis W. Clinton, acting chairman of the club, they believe experience in observation will make the novices excellent air scouts in time of war.

In discussing the plan, Mr. Mars said the club not only would maintain a landing station for sportsmen and business men who would commute by air from their country homes to the city, but would also teach civilians to fly.

"We believe that newspaper men will make good aviators," he said, "and we plan to give them free instruction in the handling of all types of flying craft. In the past newspaper men have done great service for their country, and in case of war these men may have an opportunity to lend valuable aid to the government. As couriers of the air, scouts and members of the coast patrol they could fill important missions."

MADE WAR ON CATERPILLARS.

Reported Casualties in Philadelphia Campaign Were 78,939.

Philadelphia.—Complete reports from the war of the school garden children conducted for the extermination of caterpillars have been prepared by Miss Caro Miller, directing the school gardens, and show a grand total of 78,939 caterpillars, cocoons and egg masses annihilated. It was explained that each egg mass contained 500 potential caterpillars, so that millions of caterpillars were exterminated in the egg stage by the children's campaign.

The purpose of the school garden director is to take the champion caterpillar exterminators to visit the mayor or to receive his official recognition of their public service. A girl made the best record, killing 11,356 caterpillars.

As You View the World.

The world in which a man lives shapes itself chiefly by the way in which he looks at it, and so it proves different to different men. To one it is barren, dull and superficial; to another rich, interesting and full of meaning. On hearing of the interesting events which have happened in the course of a man's experience many people will wish that similar things had happened in their lives, too, completely forgetting that they should be envious rather of the mental aptitude which lent these events the significance they possess when he describes them. To a man of genius they were interesting adventures, but to the dull perceptions of an ordinary individual they would have been stale, everyday occurrences.—Schopenhauer.

HAVE 150 DESCENDANTS.

Berea (Ky.) Couple Are Alive and Well and Over Seventy.

Berea, Ky.—Berea college, which annually trains about 1,000 young men of the southern mountain section, boasts of doing its work among the most prolific people within the borders of the country. In support of this assertion, Mrs. James Barrett, a mountain neighbor of Berea college, has furnished the authorities with data relative to her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Davidson. This couple are now enjoying good health in their seventies and have immediate descendants to the number of 150.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson have eleven children, 100 grandchildren and thirty-two great grandchildren. It is said that the family is known as peace lovers, none having ever been in court other than as witnesses.

A cat once had the misfortune to break one of its forelegs and was carefully tended by its owner. One of the members of the family, a kind hearted old woman, was especially kind to the animal and gave it numerous extra delicacies. In due time the cat recovered, but it had the wit to see the connection between its broken leg and the solicitude of the woman and accordingly concealed the fact. When unobserved it ran about like any other cat, but on the approach of the tender hearted woman immediately began limping on three legs.

FOUR BROTHERS AND FOUR SISTERS WED

In Six Months Cupid Firmly
Unites Two Wisconsin Families.

MUWAKEE, Wis.—Four Wisconsin brothers in the past six months have married four sisters. The latest of the weddings was that at Waukegan, when the last of the boys in the Blum family married the last of the sisters in the Rausch family, both the Rausch and the Blum families being of Campbellsport and Hartford, Wis., respectively. In the form in which the weddings were recorded the names of the parties are as follows:

Paul Blum, now of Marshfield, and Marie Rausch.

John Blum of Marshfield, and Anna Rausch.

Peter Blum, Jr., of Marshfield and Catherine Rausch.

Jacob Blum of Hartford and Lily Rausch.

The Blum family was formerly of Hartford, and Campbellsport is the next village. The first romance was that of a country school. The first marriage was preceded by romances involving all four brothers, and the weddings came one after another in rapid succession.

CITY MANAGER ASHBURNER DISCUSSES CHARTER FORM

Man Who Manages Affairs of Springfield and Has Saved Tens of Thousands of Dollars to City, Says Charter Form of Government Only Solution for Smaller Cities.

The following article on "The City Manager Form of Government For Smaller Cities" is written by Mr. Charles E. Ashburner, City Manager of Springfield, Ohio.

"It seems strange that a form of government for cities that bids fair to be the most popular of all the many plans, should have come into existence by accident,—but such is the case.

"During 1907, the leading citizens of Staunton, Virginia, tired of the wasteful methods employed in the management of the city's affairs began an agitation for a commission form of government,—the only remedy then known for the council form of mismanagement. The State Constitution of Virginia put an end to their dreams for a while at least. Then as the sun appears through the clouds after a thunder storm, came the words in the charter of the city of Staunton "and such other employes as they may deem necessary and designate their duties." The general manager plan was born.

"After much wrangling and after a great deal of shifting of positions, the following ordinance was passed by a small majority:

AN ORDINANCE CREATING THE OFFICE OF A GENERAL MANAGER FOR THE CITY OF STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.

"Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Staunton, Virginia,

1. That there be appointed by the two branches of the Council in joint session as soon as possible after the adoption of this resolution and thereafter annually at the regular election of city officers, in July of each year an officer to be known and designated as "General Manager."

2. The General Manager (except in case of the first appointment under this resolution, which shall be until the next regular election of city officers in July, 1908) shall hold office for the term of one year and until his successor is duly elected and qualified, unless sooner removed by the council at its pleasure.

3. The General Manager shall be paid an annual salary of . . . dollars, and he shall have the right to employ one clerk at a salary of . . . dollars per annum, to be paid by the city, the amount to be hereafter fixed by the Council.

4. The General Manager shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office, and shall have entire charge and control of all the executive work of the city in its various departments, and have entire charge and control of the head of departments and employees of the city. He shall make all contracts for labor and supplies and in general perform all of the administrative executive work now performed by the several standing committees of the Council, except the Finance ordinance and Auditing Committees. The General Manager shall discharge such other duties as may from time to time be required of him by the Council."

5. The General Manager before entering upon the duties of his office shall execute a bond before the Clerk of the Council in the penalty of $5,000 with good and sufficient surety, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office."

"The plan as operated in Staunton with a two-bodied Council,—committees composed of the members of both bodies, who are supposed to be advisory boards to the manager in each department cannot possibly get results that are lasting. So we can put the Staunton plan entirely out of consideration. Credit must, however, be given to those thoughtful men who made the best of their opportunity and started people thinking on the proper lines. It was the Staunton plan that grew into the Sumter plan and coming nearer home, we have the Dayton and Springfield charters as direct descendants of the general manager plan. The manager plan with a small commission of three or five with a hired manager, is, in my opinion, the only possible solution of the municipal problem in small cities.

"The management of municipal corporations is one of the most complex lines of business management known to man,—it is impossible for a man without a peculiar line of experience and one who will give an unlimited amount of thought and study to successfully handle the many different lines of business.

"Councilmen cannot do it during the time they give to city affairs. The head of a department devoting all his energies toward the success of the department, does not see where he can improve the efficiency of the city's business by a combination with the man at the head of some other department and even if he does see a chance to improve things by such combination in some instances, he has trouble to make the other departmental manager see through the same glasses,—for these reasons, to say nothing of petty jealousies, we have a lack of the harmony necessary for the best results. The trained city manager with authority, being equally interested in all the departments, is the only man who can bring harmony out of conflict and order out of chaos.

"There are some advocates of the commission form where the commissioners divide the work, each taking the management of some department. If there is success in that form of government in small cities, I think it can only be a matter of luck. How can voters select men, three or four, who have knowledge of the branches of government they are supposed to manage? Again the salaries necessary to pay three or four competent men is prohibitory in a small city.

"No man can successfully manage any branch of municipal affairs unless he devotes his entire time, thought and energies to the particular work and if he does this he will become absorbed in his particular branch and be unable to do justice to other branches when he meets with the other commissioners on the general business of the city. Imagine three perfect departmental heads, all of whom are commissioners, meeting and trying to be unbiased in the division of the tax duplicate. Show me a good department head, I will show you a bad commissioner. The only possible connecting link between the legislative and the operative branches is the hired manager. The commissioner is the director,—he is the same man you find in the Standard Oil Company, the railroad, the bank, the local ice company or in any other corporation. He is the keen business man who does not pretend to interfere with the operating machinery but who knows when the man at the helm (the manager) is delivering the goods.

"It has been argued that men suitable for managers of cities are hard to find. True,—because there has been small demand for such an article, but I am sure that they will develop as rapidly as the demand,—so this is merely a ghost trouble. The real trouble with the business management of small cities is the fact that in small communities each citizen knows more about his neighbors business than he does himself and such familiarity makes men cowardly when it comes to doing their duty if such duty should offend their neighbor.

"The hired manager's future in life is dependent upon his fearless discharge of his duties. He may be turned down and crushed temporarily but the business men of this country are looking for such men. Another argument in favor of the hired employee,—I hope I have not wearied you with my arguments for my manager form I believe it is right and having convinced myself at least, I will try and show you the working plan of organization. First the commissioners, three or five, with nominal salary as a board of directors one of whom (selected by the commission, to be President of the body) and for all legal purposes to occupy the position of Mayor. The commission to hire a manager who shall hold office during the pleasure of the commission.

"The treasurer, auditor and solicitor should also be appointed by the commission, but every other city employee should be appointed by the city manager, who should, of course, be broad enough to allow the heads of departments to select their help. The manager armed with this authority should be held to strict account for results and should be removed whenever the commission find that they can improve the service by his absence.

"Nothing but strict, impartial, unbiased, honest and fearless business should be tolerated in any city hall.

"American can and does produce the type of man necessary and as soon as public conscience is aroused that will support such men, they will come out of the service of the big corporations and give their time to the citizens of our municipalities. Heretofore few clean men have been willing to accept the mud and slime of politics thrown upon those who dare to do their duty."

ROBINSON BUYS PARTNERSHIP IN THE KATZ STORE

Mr. Chas. Robinson and Mr. Leo Katz have purchased the interests of Mr. N. Nusbaum in the Katz & Company gents clothing store in this city and Mr. Robinson succeeds Mr. Nusbaum in the partnership, becoming the junior partner of the firm, and will assist Mr. Katz in the active management of the store.

The elevator in the Katz building will be removed in the near future and a handsome new front is to be installed after the first of the year.

COMPANY M TO GO WEDNESDAY

Major Rell G. Allen Will Have Charge of Train Carrying Local Company and Others — Will Not Pass Through This City, But Go to Chicago on Way to the Border.

Company M, Fourth Regiment, Ohio Infantry, will leave Wednesday for the Mexican border, unless orders to the contrary are received, a thing which is not looked for.

Company M left this city eight weeks ago, after being mobilized at the local armory some three weeks, and since that time has been in Camp Willis, undergoing special training and becoming seasoned for active service, although at the present time the active service probably will be nothing more than light patrol duty on the border.

The Fifth Regiment left Camp Willis Tuesday, going by way of this city and Cincinnati, and the Fourth leaves Wednesday by a different route, passing through northwestern Ohio and going by way of Chicago.

It is possible that the Fourth will be held in Chicago for some little time, and may never go further than that point.

Major Rell G. Allen will have charge of one of the trains carrying the Fourth, and which will carry Company M, of this city. Tourist sleepers will be used for transporting the men and Pullman coaches for the officers. General John C. Speaks also will be aboard Major Allen's train, it is understood.

Company M ranks among the best companies of the Fourth, and contains 94 officers and men.

GREASE IGNITES ALARM TURNED IN

When a pan full of grease in an oven in the kitchen of the Manhattan restaurant on East Court street became too hot and ignited, about 8:30 Tuesday morning, the flames and dense smoke drove the kitchen force from the basement and an alarm was turned in, bringing the fire department to the scene.

It seems that no chemical was handy at the time the fire started so that it was necessary to throw a small amount of water to quench the flames, which scorched the flooring but did very little damage.

The dense smoke pouring from the basement windows caused some little excitement until the department turned the water on.

DEATH OF LITTLE SON

WALLENSTEIN SELLS INTEREST TO THARP

The clothing firm of Katz & Wallenstein, of Greenfield, underwent a change this week when Mr. Charles Tharp of this city purchased the interests of Mr. Wallenstein and assumes active management of the store Wednesday of this week. Mr. Leo Katz is the other partner, and the store is one of many owned by Mr. Katz and associates in this part of Ohio.

Mr. Tharp has been in the clothing business in this city for a great many years, and knows it thoroughly. He is well qualified for the position he is to fill, and has the well wishes of a host of friends in this city and county. He has been associated with his brother, W. A. Tharp, in this city.

COUNTY BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Bryce Bell Chosen to Succeed Self as County Examiner—Territory Again Transferred—Meeting Held Last Night Instead of on Regular Meeting Day.

The County Board of Education held a meeting about 7:45 Monday night instead of on the regular meeting day, Tuesday, and it was a short time before the session that some of the members received notice of the change in the time and date, it is claimed. Minnick was absent.

The chief question considered was the choosing of a county examiner to succeed Bryce Bell. The first vote stood two for Bell and two for G. L. Everhart, but on the second ballot it was unanimous for Bell, who was named for two years. It is rumored that a change will occur in the Board of Examiners within the next three months.

Petitions were then submitted asking for the transfer of four sub-districts in Paint township which had been placed in Jefferson township, back into Paint, and this was done.

Another petition was for the transfer of two sub-districts which previously had been transferred from Union to Concord, back into Union. This was done. In both instances the change is not to become effective until next June. It was explained that maps had to be made before the transfers could become effective.

A petition to transfer four sub-districts which had been transferred from Jasper to Concord township, but a tie vote resulted and no further action was taken.

When he took all clothing, and was gone before this was discovered, Mrs. Grove, upon learning of his French leave, applied to the police, with the above result.

CONGRESS TO HEAR PRESIDENT

Railroad Situation to Be Given an Airing.

DECISION OF PRESIDENT

Will Appear Before Congress and Recommend Legislation Aimed to Avert the Threatened Nation-wide Railroad Strike—Program Calls for Eight-Hour Day and Increased Rate. Conferences With Leaders.

Washington, Aug. 29.—President Wilson has decided to go before Congress and recommend legislation aimed to avert the threatened nation-wide railroad strike. He is at work on his message in which he will tell members of the senate and house the negotiations to date and lay before them a definite legislative program.

In his conference with the members of the senate Democratic legislative steering committee, President Wilson not only asked advice regarding the desirability of his laying the whole railroad situation before Congress in a personal address, but discussed with them problems of legislation to prevent a nation-wide strike, or in the event of a strike, to keep the roads in operation for national necessities. He disclosed to the committee the essential points in the protracted negotiations he has conducted for two weeks with railroad presidents and managers and the representatives of the Brotherhoods.

Senator Kern, chairman of the committee, said the committee was in full accord with the president regarding the advisability of addressing Congress and that a joint session would be arranged to hear him.

"We have undertaken the framing of a general bill," said Senator Newlands, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, "regarding the various phases of legislation that will be necessary to meet this railroad situation. We reached no conclusion except as to the general scope of legislation that will be required. The purpose is to take as a basis for this legislation the bill to enlarge the interstate commerce commission. To meet the emergency we are considering also legislation fixing an eight-hour work day for railroad employees; an increase in revenue to the railroads to meet greater expense of operation due to the adoption of the eight-hour day, and amendment to the existing arbitration laws. We are considering applying to the arbitration law the Canadian principle which would prohibit a strike or lockout pending negotiations and for a period of sixty days following a decision in any controversy. With reference to the eight-hour day there is being discussed the advisability of making legislation providing for it effective at a time far enough in the future to permit the railroads to adjust their affairs."

In addition to this proposed constructive legislation the president and his advisers also have under consideration the problem of legislation in the event of a strike; to keep the railroads in operation.

VETERANS MAKE MANY SACRIFICES

Saved Money For Months to Attend Encampment.

Kansas City, Aug. 29.—That the Union veterans of the civil war for months made great personal sacrifices so as to be able to attend the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, in session here, was the statement made by Captain Elias R. Monfort, commander-in-chief of the blue-clad veterans.

"The boys have saved their money for months to attend this encampment," said Captain Monfort. "Some of them are not well fixed in worldly goods, but they were eager to come here and march in the annual parade and to shake hands with their battle comrades. I've known men who should have spent their pension money for food and clothing, but saved it for this reunion."

Cool weather will make it possible for the veterans to take a more active part in the celebration than had been expected.

The sessions of all the organizations will start tomorrow afternoon, following the annual parade of the veterans in the morning.

Four candidates, who wish to succeed Captain Monfort as commander-in-chief of the army, have appeared. They are William J. Patterson of Pittsburgh, J. Payson Bradley of Boston, Patrick H. Coney of Topeka and Lee Hunt Dodge of Berea, Ky. The election will be held Friday.

STARTS YOUNG

(By American Press)

Brownstown, Ind., Aug. 29.—Herchel Phillips, seventeen, was taken to the reformatory at Jeffersonville. He was arrested here charged with attempting to rob the State bank at Medora, Ind., and with shooting the cashier, Miss Mera Hunsucker, who may recover. The youth, according to Sheriff Van Robertson, made a written confession, saying he became frightened after his demand for $5,000 had been refused by Miss Hunsucker, and fired his revolver without intending to wound her. After leaving the bank Phillips went into a cornfield nearby, discarded a long overcoat and later joined the armed posse of citizens who surrounded the field. The finding of the overcoat furnished the clue on which Phillips' arrest was based.

MURDER SEQUEL

(By American Press)

Cincinnati, Aug. 29.—Charles Williams, colored, who was shot and instantly killed at Sharonville, was a secret agent in the employ of William Farrell, chief deputy liquor license inspector for this district. Farrell is of the opinion that the secret work of Williams became known and he was killed because of this. Henry Henderson, a negro, is locked up at Sharonville as a result of the killing. Farrell says that for some time he had had Williams at work because of suspected bootlegging in the neighborhood of the speedway.

WARN DELEGATES

(By American Press)

Columbus, Aug. 29.—Chairman W. L. Finley of the Democratic state executive committee sent out announcements warning the delegates to the state convention that the adjourned session of the convention is to be held on Sept. 7, instead of Aug. 30. The latter date was the one originally set and Chairman Finley has learned that many of the delegates still believe that the convention is to be held on that date.

RUN ON BACK

(By American Press)

Pittsburgh, Aug. 29.—The First National Bank of Aspinwall, a suburb, was today placed in charge of J. Frank Miller, national bank examiner, after a meeting of the board of directors, at which it was disclosed that considerable proportion of the deposits had been withdrawn by depositors last Saturday. The run, it was stated, followed the closing of the Central Trust company of Pittsburgh.

WARN HAND BOOK MEN

(By American Press)

Cincinnati, Aug. 29.—"I want to say that in the future the handbook players will be fined as well as the handbook maker if brought before me and a case is made. The law was passed to break up handbooks and the man who plays them is just as guilty as the maker. The statute is clear on that point and will be enforced to the letter." Judge Alexander so expressed himself in the municipal court.

TO ATTACK TEUTONS IN REAR

Roumanians Seeking Entry Into Transylvania.

WAR FORMALLY DECLARED

Bucharest Announcement Is Followed by a Similar Declaration from the German Capital—Million More Men Thrown into the Great Conflict. Hard Fighting on the Several Battle Fronts.

London, Aug. 29.—Berlin announced that Germany is at war with Roumania. This followed Roumania's declaration of war against Austria-Hungary.

Troops of King Ferdinand already are seeking entry into the plains of Transylvania, through the eastern Carpathians toward Kronstadt, the chief city of Transylvania, and in the direction of Germanstadt, evidently in an endeavor to press northward through Transylvania toward the Bukovina and Galicia borders and to take in the rear the Austro-Germans trying to hold back the Russians from entering the plains of Hungary.

Nothing has come through to indicate what preparation has been made by the Bulgarians to offset a probable attack by the Roumanians along the Danube frontier, and possible attempts of Russians at invasion by means of the Danube and through Dobruja or by the Black Sea.

Roumania's entrance into the war places a thoroughly drilled and equipped army of nearly 600,000 men alongside the allies. Of the actual fighting value of the Roumanian army nothing definite can yet be told, as it has never been put to the test. During the two recent Balkan wars Roumania, of all the Balkan states, alone kept out of the struggle. The organization and equipment of the Roumanian army has been praised by many experts. Roumania's military service is obligatory on all able-bodied men between twenty-one and forty-six years of age. This gives the country 50,000 new soldiers a year and enables Roumania, out of a population of 7,000,000, to muster an army of over 500,000.

Roumania's Decision.

Roumania's decision was reached at a meeting of the crown council, summoned by King Ferdinand. It came at the end of two years of anxious waiting as the Roumanian diplomats watched with tense interest the military fortunes of the allies. The Roumanian declaration is expected to signal Greece's early entrance into the war on the side of the allies.

Along the lines where the Teutonic allies are in contact with the Serbians, British and French, Berlin and Paris report additional gains for their respective forces. Berlin records the capture of heights south of Zborosko by the Bulgarians and the repulse of the Serbian counter attacks on Mount Saganska, while Paris says the Serbians have made considerable progress near Vetrebnik and have repulsed Bulgarian attacks on the road from Banica Stovo. Sofia reports, however, Bulgarian occupation of positions abandoned by the Greeks west of Kavala, on the Aegean Sea. Artillery engagements and mine operations again have characterized fighting in France and Belgium. The French report further progress east of Deville wood and near the Mouquet farm, in the Somme region.

London reports the shelling of British positions by the Germans, especially between Pozieres and the Thiepval wood, and reciprocal bombardments at other points. A German attack near Fleury failed.

From the Riga region to the Carpathian passes, there have been isolated engagements at various points between the Russians and the Austro-Germans, but no notable successes. Hard fighting is in progress between the Russians and the Turks in the Lake Van region and north of Bitlis. In the latter region the Turks have been driven back southward by a Russian counter attack, losing men and guns.

BLIND, BUT THEY KNOW WORLD'S DOINGS THANKS TO SOCIETY WOMEN'S READINGS

THEY SEE THE WORLD THROUGH ANOTHER'S EYES

One of the most interesting of New York charities is depicted herewith. It shows Mrs. G. F. Gould, well known in society, reading to the inmates of the Home For Destitute Blind. It really puts many seeing women to shame to discuss the topics of the day with these blind women, for they are "up" in anything in the way of current events, and they can discuss the changes in the map of Europe with accuracy and fluency. As for political gossip, civic welfare and the many other subjects which appear in the dailies and magazines, they are freely discussed by these blind women. Every morning Mrs. Gould and several other ladies spend hours at the home reading aloud the news. While they read aloud the "eyes" (fingers) of the sightless men and women are busily engaged in their daily work, caning chairs, knitting, sewing, crocheting, etc.

AUTO ROBBERS GET COLLECTOR

He Gets Sum of $3,000 and Makes Good His Escape.

Detroit, Aug. 29.—An automobile bandit held up and robbed the driver of a Standard Oil company collection car on a lonely road near Dearborn, a Detroit suburb. He obtained more than $3,000. John Isbell, driver of the car, was taken from his machine, bound, gagged and left by the roadside. His muffled cries attracted help a few minutes later. Meanwhile the bandit escaped.

Isbell told Sheriff Oakman that as he came to a stop the bandit pointed a pistol at him and, being unarmed, he was compelled to surrender a small bag containing about $3,000 collected from various gasoline distributing stations just outside the Detroit city limits.

An attempt to cry for help, Isbell said, was silenced with a blow over the eye and order to "shut up." After putting the bag in his own car the bandit bound and gagged Isbell and dragged him into the bushes at the roadside. He then re-entered his own car and drove away. Isbell's cries later attracted a workman, who released him.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—The German emperor has ordered postponement until after the war of the execution of all sentences imposed for the punishment of French prisoners, both civilian and military, on account of acts committed up to Sept. 1 of this year. Rome, Aug. 29.—Italy declared war on Germany because Germany sent both land and sea forces to the aid of Austria, enabling her to concentrate her maximum efforts against Italy, said an official statement issued here. Excepting the capture of Gorizia, no event of several months has so stirred the Italian public as the news of Italy's challenge to the kaiser. A great procession paraded the principal streets, shouting "Down with Germany!" and "Long Live the Allies!"

TROOPERS ON WAY TO BORDER

Fifth Ohio Regiment Leaves For El Paso.

OTHER DIVISIONS TO MOVE

Columbus, Aug. 29.—The first contingent of Ohio troops is now on its way to the Mexican border. The Fifth regiment, under Colonel C. X. Zimmerman, Cleveland, left this afternoon for El Paso, Tex.

The Fourth regiment, Colonel B. F. Bargar, Columbus, commands, leaves tomorrow, and the Eighth, under Colonel Edward Vollrath, Bucyrus, goes Thursday.

The regiments to move today tomorrow and Thursday constitute the Second Brigade, under General John C. Speaks of Columbus. The brigadier general and his staff will go with the Fourth regiment.

There will be a continuous movement of troops from the camp until all are gone, unless present plans are changed, said Major Charles Miller, chief federal officer.

The Fifth regiment entrained in three sections at the Broad Street station of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad, and goes south via Cincinnati and New Orleans. The Fourth will board trains at Fifth avenue and the Hocking Valley and go via Chicago and Kansas City. The Eighth boards at Duffy's station, west of the camp, and goes via St. Louis.

Although the Fourth will be the second to leave Columbus, it probably will be the first to arrive at El Paso, as its route is much shorter than that of the Fifth. The Fourth expects to be on the way for four or five days. Ten days' rations are furnished the men upon departure.

The soldiers have been furnished with two pairs of shoes each, two blankets, an overcoat and most of them with sweaters.

The Fifth regiment men last night slept in their "pup" tents, each accommodating two.

A dispatch from Washington gives a new ruling of the war department. It says that students enlisted in the Ohio militia and drafted into service will not be released after all, except in cases where whole organizations are made up of students, and in such cases the organizations will be released as a whole. The great number of would-be students who are scattered through various militia organizations will be held in the service.

The Scrap Book

Too Much Ornithology.

Some years ago Carl Crow, the author, was a cub reporter on a newspaper, one of his duties being to cover the police station. One day just before press time he made his usual trip to see the desk sergeant.

"Have a great story for you," said the sergeant. "We arrested a parrot out on Front street awhile ago on a charge of using abusive language. The neighbors complained so much we had to go out and lock the old bird up."

After getting a few more details Crow rushed back to the office and wrote a funny story about the arrest of the bird. He was congratulating himself on landing a story on the first page an hour or so after the paper got on the streets when the telephone bell rang and he had to listen to a torrent of abuse from an irate lady at the other end of the line. It developed that she was Mrs. Parrot and she had been arrested for using abusive language, but she bitterly resented being written up as a bird. After she had exhausted her vocabulary and was preparing for a new start she asked:

"What is your name?" "Crow," said the reporter. "What did you say?" "I said my name was Crow."

"You think you are blamed smart, don't you?" said the freshly insulted Mrs. Parrot as she hung up the receiver.—Exchange.

Charlotte Rooster.

Samuel O'Keefe, a retired Wall street man, is almost a daily visitor at a hospital for joint diseases, where a friend is receiving treatment. There are many invalid children at the hospital and Mr. O'Keefe often takes them candy, and on one memorable occasion imported a consignment of Charlotte russe.

A day or two following the Charlotte russe festival he visited the children's ward again and was greeted by loud shouts of approval. His arrival was first noted by a little boy, said by the nurses to be "as smart as a whip," who shouted gleefully:

"Oh, look! here comes the Charlotte rooster!"

Under the circumstances Mr. O'Keefe felt that any further refreshment ought to be "on him."—New York Sun.

A Real Puzzle.

Erin Haskins, constable of a New England village, had an exalted opinion of his ability as a detective. He also read everything he could find on the career of Sherlock Holmes, until he imagined that he had thereby acquired wonderful deductive abilities. "Now, gentlemen," said he, on one occasion to his assistants in a particular case, "we have traced these clues—the footprints of the horse and the footprints of the man, right up here to this stump, from the stump on there's only the footprints of the horse. Now, gentlemen, the question arises: What has become of the man?"

Portland, Ore.—New York's best surgeons will endeavor to restore the sight of Melba, a seven-year-old Eskimo girl, who was found deserted in an igloo by Dr. L. H. French, United States government physician in Alaska.

The corner of a rabbit will be grafted upon one affected eye and a cataract removed from the other.

In charge of Mrs. Corinne Call, a government teacher, the child arrived in Portland recently. Mrs. Call says the Eskimos left Melba in the ice hut, hoping she would die. She has been totally blind for five years. The trouble is diagnosed as an eruption of the corner.

SYNOPSIS.

Pierpont Stafford, banker and railroad magnate, with his sixteen-year-old daughter, Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious but willful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of a governess from whom she repeatedly escapes. Her childish capers cause young Doctor Royce to fall in love with her. She steals from her room at night and in an auto plunges into the surf where she leaves the car. Becoming lost in the everglades she falls into the hands of the Seminole Indians. She is rescued and returned to her father, who had offered a reward for her return. Gloria falls in love with her rescuer, Freneau. Five years later she leaves school and meets Freneau at the theater; his attention having been occupied with her sister-in-law, he has forgotten Gloria. Gloria feels that her one dream is shattered. Later Freneau persuades her to forgive him. Gloria's sister-in-law, Lois, becomes intensely jealous and Doctor Royce discovers in her an ally to assist in thwarting Freneau.

On the following day, all arrangements having been made by telephone to the Stafford country place, Gloria took Burroughs with her and motored out. They were met by a glowing and enthusiastic Freneau at the railroad station. Gloria took him on to her warm-weather home, which managed to keep a majestic appearance in its mantle of snow.

The dogs started a wild hullabaloo of ferocity from their kennels when the car drove in. They changed their excited barks to yelps of welcome as they recognized Gloria. But she left them disconsolate for a groom brought up from the stable yard her shaggy ponies harnessed to the little Russian sleigh.

As she stopped to pet the noses of the ponies Freneau lost for a moment

BIG BUSINESS DEAL CLOSED IN THIS CITY

Mrs. S. D. Morgan Trades 19 Residences, Store, Business Block and Four Vacant Lots for 475 Acre Farm in Franklin County.

Another of a series of big realty transactions turned by Ben Jamison during the past two years, has just been closed, whereby nineteen residence properties, a store building, two story brick business structure and four vacant lots in this city, owned by Mrs. S. D. Morgan, have been transferred to Messrs. P. C. Ballard and M. S. Daugherty, trustees and a farm of approximately 475 acres in Washington and Concord townships, Franklin County, becomes the property of Mrs. Morgan.

The nineteen residences in question are located on South Main street, Oak street, Elm street and S. Hinde street, and the store room is located on the corner of S. Main and Elm streets. The vacant lots are located in the block with the residences.

The business block is immediately back of the Katz & Co. store, extending from the rear of the store to the alley, the first floor of which is occupied by Oatmeal's barber shop and The M. Hamm Company's office.

Negotiations for the big deal have been under way for some little time, but were not closed until this week. It is probably the first time in the history of the city that so many residence properties have changed hands in one block.

The farm which is now the property of Mrs. Morgan is not far from Columbus and one of the best farms in that part of the state.

R. R. COMMITTEE MAKES STATEMENT

By Associated Press Dispatch.
Washington, August 29. — The
committee of railway presidents issued a statement today to the public, in which they outline their position.

They said they were unable to grant the demands of the men without arbitration and were unable to agree with the proposal of President
Wilson that they accept without arbitration the substitution of an eight-hour day for the present ten-
hour day.

They say the demands have been presented for the real purpose of
accomplishing an increase in wages
of approximately $100,000,000, or 3g per cent, for the men represented in the four unions which are
demanding the changes.

They add that the men not represented by the brotherhoods number at least 80 per cent of the railroad employees, and that these have
no voice in the demands.

They say also that in justice to
these men, and to the corporations
and individuals who have invested
in railway securities and who are vitaly interested in the solvency of
the roads, that they cannot yield
without arbitration.

They also call attention to the present situation in this country
and point out what they see to be disastrous effects to industry and
commerce and to the national life
if the demands are granted or a
strike is called.

The opinion is expressed that the public will be satisfied with arbitration, but with nothing else.

They say that the demands could
not be granted without an increase
in freight rates or the bankruptcy
of a number of the railroads.

CONGRESS ADDRESSED BY PRESIDENT WILSON PLAN IS PRESENTED

Believes 8 Hour Day Will Come as Result
of Demands of Union and of Society.

MAKES RECOMMENDATION AND LEAVES METHOD TO CONGRESS

Asks Power to Draft Men Now in Dispute
in Event Nation Takes Over Railroads as Military Necessity.

Washington, August 29. — (By Associated Press Dispatch)—President Wilson laid the railway strike situation before Congress at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon, in an address to both Houses, assembled in joint session.

The President told Congress of his efforts to get the railroad managers and the men into some sort of agreement, and,
saying he was powerless to do more, he asked Congress to en-
act certain specific legislation to deal with the situation now
and in the future.

POINTS OUT THE DISTRESS

Pointing out the distress and hardships which a nationwide strike would bring upon the country, declaring that he regarded it as a "practical certainty" that the railroads
would be "ultimately obliged to accept the eight-hour day by the concerted action of organized labor, backed by the favorable judgment of society," and that he recommended the establishment of an eight-hour day as the legal basis alike of work and wages in the employment of railroad workers, the President asked Congress to empower him to draft into the service of the United States the very managers and men who have been unable to adjust their differences, so that the Government, may operate the railroads in case of military necessity.

WILSON'S PROPOSALS TO CONGRESS

- The President proposed that Congress:
- First—enlarge the membership of the Inter-State Commerce Commission to equip it to deal with large situations;
 - Second—that an eight-hour day be established for all trainmen in inter-state commerce;
 - Third—that a commission investigate the effect of the eight-hour day, but without recommendation, that the public may learn the merits of the question;
 - Fourth—that the Inter-State Commerce Commission consider the increased cost of the eight-hour day in making rates and,
 - Fifth—amend the mediation law to prevent strikes or lockouts while industrial disputes are being investigated.
- The sixth proposal was that the President be empowered to operate the railways in case of military necessity.
- How these recommendations are to be carried out, President Wilson left entirely in the hands of Congress.

WILL STRIKE ON LABOR DAY

The brotherhood leaders have called the strike for 7 a. m. Labor Day unless a favorable settlement is reached before that time.

LATEST GOWNS AND ADORNMENT

How to Choose the Jewels to Accompany the Fall Wardrobe.

"Choose your new jewels to suit your new Fall gowns." The edict reads, "or" it adds to the contrary "choose your new Fall gowns to harmonize with your own cherished pendants, bracelets, rings and brooches. Anyway, it means, be sure not to forget that your jewels are intended to be worn with your new gowns, and when you think of one also, remember the other.

It may seem odd at first to say, "I must have new jewels to wear with that Oriental-looking affair," or "My set of amethysts never will blend with that silk of green-blue sheen, so I will choose a purple-blue shade instead."

But it becomes second nature after a while, and you will no more think of selecting your jewels in a haphazard, happy-go-lucky manner than you would think of being careless about the color or fit of your socks and slippers or the style and shape of your hat.

And it matters not a whit whether you are to have a dozen glorious creations for your evening needs this coming Fall or only a single simple frock to meet all obligations, the rule holds and the principle is need? Yes, pink coral is my choice, and I shall have it mounted in a pretty silver necklace." Wise was she, and so you will be if, when you decide upon your Fall wardrobe, you give a little time and thought to your jewels.

First Fall Fashions in Evening Gowns.

The importations are arriving just now, and, while they will be the last to be used, the evening gowns cry for first attention as they really are of far greater importance as a fashion forecast than any afternoon frock or tailored suit ever aspired to be. They control the coming colors, the trimmings and the silhouettes. They dominate the fashion world from all points of view. So they are given first place on our fashion list.

What the first illustration tells is of very grave import, and its secrets are many, although being in black and white, in place of the original brilliant colors, the secrets must be read about instead of seen.

It is in cloth of gold, this splendid evening gown, with a basque—that is one of the momentous signs, one of the ear-marks of the very, very newest in frocks for all occasions.

The sapphires of the handsome jewels make the contrasting color in the costume the only color in fact other than the glowing gold of the metal fabric, the gown being, like so many of the latest importations from Paris, so gorgeous in itself that it is unnecessary to add any colorful trimming. It is this same attribute, the solid tone, that makes the gown such an excellent backing for beautiful jewels.

Fig. 2—Party Frock With Platinum Set Emeralds and Diamonds.

The diamond encrusted necklace shown in this third photograph is especially note-worthy. It is one of the forerunners of the coming Winter's jewelry styles and as such demands notice. This is the jewel that will be used morning, afternoon and evening during the Fall and Winter, in differing patterns of a variety of materials, of course, according to appropriateness and suitability, but in form it will be the same as the necklace pictured here, a narrow beehemmed circle with a pendant detail.

The variations on this theme will be found in the depth of the band, the material of which it is composed and in the placing of the pendant ornament which may be worn either directly in the center, in front or hanging to the left side. This particular example is formed entirely of platinum. Mounted diamonds, three rows of diamonds and four square plaque making the circle and three strands of diamonds, the central one finished with a great pear-shaped gem, making the pendant.

These necklets will be much used even when furs are worn, as they give the wanted brilliancy below the face without the bothersome effect of a loose hanging la Valliere or necklace, and except for the very closest of neckpieces furs will not hide such a necklet from view.

The disk-shaped pendant on the long diamond chain shown in the photograph is in reality a disguised locket—a clever device, for it enables the matron to carry needed eyeglasses without their intrusion on the elegance of her costume. Beautiful locketettes are being designed for millady's use this Fall and they will be more fully described within a short space of time.

All three photographs show won-

the same; for one little pendant has just as much right to be appropriate as have a whole set of fine jewels.

A dainty little maid with an eye for the future and love of the artistic fitness of things has chosen her birthday jewelry to match her next Winter's dance frock. For, said she, "I have determined on pink for my best" this Autumn, and why should I be forced to give thanks for turquoise or lapis when coral is what I want and really

Speaking of solid colors the new American beauty shade, a deep but softer rose than the old silks and satins showed with a bloom on it like a red plum skin, makes a marvelous foil for the rich velvet tone of the darkest amethyst. Then there is an odd and striking combination when corn-tower blue sapphires are used of a lustrous pannel velvet of pale lavender that, too, will be seen this Fall.

The narrow necklet with the fascinating pendant is something new, and, hereby take a hint, it is most wonderfully becoming. So is the la Valliere in the second picture new with the broad-topped, long pointed pendants and it also is becoming but to quite a different type of beauty as you see.

Two square headed pins in tortoise shell set with diamonds, are used in the coiffure, while in the first photograph a new bandeau is shown and in the third picture a pendant hangs from the band surrounding the high dressed hair.

White, ornamented sparsely with embroidery in beads, is used for this second dress and for the third, sequins emphasize the prevalence of all bead and spangle materials and trimmings among the seasons offerings.

This gorgeous gown is formed entirely of electric blue spangles, a wondrous hue, reflecting a million glittering lights. Diamonds show to advantage on such a ground but only the biggest and finest can stand the test, as the rivalry is too severe on any gems not having the greatest brilliancy.

The gown is cut in one of the new fitted patterns, almost a Princess, but not quite, and therein lies the difficulty when a copy of such a Paris gown is to be made, it is that something called style and a most elusive something it is.

The use of Kentucky Carlsbad Mineral Water has become so general and the almost miraculous cures effected by it are so fully recognized by the medical profession and the public that we do not hesitate to make the following sweeping guarantee:

If you are afflicted with Bright's Disease, Kidney, Liver, Bladder and Stomach trouble, Catarrh of the Head or Bowels and Intestinal troubles and will drink Kentucky Carlsbad Water according to directions for a period of ten days or two weeks, we or the dealer who sold you the water will refund to you all the money you paid for it. If you are not satisfied with the results.

The Aurora Borealis

It is not often that the mysterious Aurora Borealis, or "Northern lights," may be seen in this latitude.

There are many people hereabouts who yet doubt that the wonderful and beautiful ribbons of light extending from the magnetic pole to the dome of the heavens were visible here last Saturday night. The announcement by responsible citizens that the Aurora Borealis was visible Saturday was received with a look of incredulity by those who were not fortunate enough to be gazing at the northern sky late Saturday night. That look, however, as the number of witnesses to the occurrence multiplied in numbers without decreasing in responsibility, was replaced by one of disappointment.

The heavens provide many marvelous, beautiful and awe-inspiring sights. But there is something about the brilliant Aurora Borealis which makes it supreme to all.

Our earliest impressions of physical geography are the pictures of the Aurora Borealis and St. Elmo's fire.

Nearly every one of us has some interesting incident to relate in connection with the northern lights which has impressed the appearance on our mind and lends added charm to our recollection of when "we saw them."

One of our citizens Monday morning related how when he was a boy on the farm, in the dead of night one man went the rounds to rouse all the neighborhood to see the Aurora. Of course, he never forgot the incident. Those many folks who were early to bed Saturday night because it was cool and pleasant to sleep missed a treat which nature does not often provide in this latitude.

Taxation Problems

Perhaps some day there will arise, in Ohio a man who possesses the ability, the courage and the independence to suggest and to secure the adoption of a just and efficient system of taxation.

That the present system is all wrong in principle and in results attained is a fact conceded by everyone.

That it would be vastly improved, by men now in public life, if political expediency was cast aside, is denied by few people who are at all watchful of events and conditions.

There is no problem of the public service which should be kept free of politics than the one of taxation and, unfortunately, there is no problem so cursed by politics and no problem so jugged by politicians as taxation.

When some change really worth while is made or suggested the designing politicians and the demagogues seize upon it as an opportunity, by advocating its destruction, to elevate themselves to power.

People are perhaps more suspicious, more jealous of taxation than of any other governmental function.

The right of the state to tax has always, since earliest history of governments, been regarded as an encroachment upon private rights.

Having been misled and deceived so often the people have become, apparently bewildered on the subject of taxation and are as likely to take up with the unsound proposals as they are with the sound doctrine.

Nine tenths of our ills in taxation matters come from deception by public officials and law makers.

If politicians on all sides would only allow taxation to be settled, settled right and stay settled, they would save themselves annoyance and humiliation and the people a vast amount of money.

Roumania Enters War

The long expected has occurred. Italy has been forced by the entanglements of the Balkans campaign to declare war on Germany and Roumania, with her army of nearly a million veteran soldiers ready to take the field, has cast her lot with the side of the Entente Allies.

Experts have long foreseen the happening of both events. In fact the wonder has been that Roumania could so long remain outside of the vortex of war which raged on every side and that Italy could be engaged in war with Austria, while at the same time maintaining a form of peace with Germany.

The developments of the past week seem to prophecy with certainty the entrance of Greece into the struggle.

Thus does the diplomacy of the Entente powers, so woefully impotent in the Balkans at the time the first campaign against the Dardanelles was launched, triumph over the German.

The declaration of Roumania is by far the most important happening of the week in the war. With Roumania actually engaged the Bulgars are surrounded by hostile nations with only Turkey as a friend in the terrible struggle which rages in the Balkans.

Russia is thus afforded an opportunity to cut through Bulgaria and send her armies into the war zone.

The maintenance of neutrality by Greece becomes now almost an impossibility and, in view of the recent outrages committed by the Bulgarians against the Greek armies, an alliance with the Central powers seems unlikely.

Poetry For Today

KEEP UP YOUR PLUCK.

Keep up your pluck and take another hold.
Don't whimper; it is useless to complain.
Fortune still deals her favors to the hold.
There's never loss but somewhere is a gain.

While you have left your body and your brain,
In spite of all misfortune, be consoled.
There's always hope while these you still retain.
Keep up your pluck and take another hold.

The world to you may seem both hard and cold,
And yet it is a good world, in the main;
If sympathy is in small measure doled,
Don't whimper; it is useless to complain.

With cheerful smiles conceal the hidden pain,
Leave your vexations and your wrongs untold.
Fight, but if beaten from weak tears refrain.
Fortune still deals her favors to the hold.

Oh, those invertebrates who fret and scold,
Make faces at the cup they have to drain,
Dumbly despair at loss of land or gold!
There's never loss but somewhere is a gain.

Be vallant, Bound, then strive to break the chain.
That binds you. Show yourself of iron mold.
Sit down and weep and you will weep in vain.
Work manfully and fate may be controlled.

As You View the World.

The world in which a man lives shapes itself chiefly by the way in which he looks at it, and so it proves different to different men. To one it is barren, dull and superficial; to another rich, interesting and full of meaning. On hearing of the interesting events which have happened in the course of a man's experience many people will wish that similar things had happened in their lives, too, completely forgetting that they should be envious rather of the mental aptitude which lent these events the significance they possess when he describes them. To a man of genius they were interesting adventures, but to the dull perceptions of an ordinary individual they would have been stale, everyday occurrences. —Schopenhauer.

New York Aviation Club Has a New Preparedness Plan.

WOULD BE USEFUL IN WAR.

J. C. Mars, Who, With Augustus Post, Will Be in Charge of Training School, Believes They Could Fill Important Missions For Government.

New York.—New York will soon have a corps of newspaper aviators, according to the plans of the New York Flying Yacht club, whose officials have offered to give courses in aviation to all newspaper men capable of becoming aviators. The club recently received permission to use the North river water front at One Hundred and Twenty-ninth street for a landing stage for hydroaeroplanes and aeroplanes, and floats, hangars and machine shops will be erected there in the near future.

J. C. Mars and Augustus Post, aviators, will be in charge of the training school for newspaper men, and, with Francis W. Clinton, acting chairman of the club, they believe experience in observation will make the novices excellent air scouts in time of war.

In discussing the plan, Mr. Mars said the club not only would maintain a landing station for sportsmen and business men who would commute by air from their country homes to the city, but would also teach civilians to fly.

"We believe that newspaper men will make good aviators," he said, "and we plan to give them free instruction in the handling of all types of flying craft. In the past newspaper men have done great service for their country, and in time of war these men may have an opportunity to lend valuable aid to the government. As couriers of the air, scouts and members of the coast patrol they could fill important missions."

MADE WAR ON CATERPILLARS.

Reported Casualties in Philadelphia Campaign Were 78,939.

Philadelphia.—Complete reports from the war of the school garden children conducted for the extermination of caterpillars have been prepared by Miss Caro Miller, directing the school gardens, and show a grand total of 78,939 caterpillars, cocoons and egg masses annihilated. It was explained that each egg mass contained 500 potential caterpillars, so that millions of caterpillars were exterminated in the egg stage by the children's campaign.

The purpose of the school garden director is to take the champion caterpillar exterminators to visit the mayor or to receive his official recognition of their public service. A girl made the best record, killing 11,350 caterpillars.

FOUR BROTHERS AND FOUR SISTERS WED

In Six Months Cupid Firmly Unites Two Wisconsin Families.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Four Wisconsin brothers in the past six months have married four sisters. The latest of the weddings was that at Waukegan, when the last of the boys in the Blum family married the last of the sisters in the Rausch family, both the Rausch and the Blum families being of Campbellsport and Hartford, Wis., respectively. In the form in which the weddings were recorded the names of the parties are as follows:

Paul Blum, now of Marshfield, and Marie Rausch.

John Blum of Marshfield and Anna Rausch.

Peter Blum, Jr., of Marshfield and Catherine Rausch.

Jacob Blum of Hartford and Lily Rausch.

The Blum family was formerly of Hartford, and Campbellsport is the next village. The first romance was that of a country school. The first marriage was preceded by romances involving all four brothers, and the weddings came one after another in rapid succession.

Berea (Ky.) Couple Are Alive and Well and Over Seventy.

Berea, Ky.—Berea college, which annually trains about 1,000 young men of the southern mountain section, boasts of doing its work among the most prolific people within the borders of the country. In support of this assertion, Mrs. James Barrett, a mountain neighbor of Berea college, has furnished the authorities with data relative to her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Davidson. This couple are now enjoying good health in their seventies and have immediate descendants to the number of 150.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson have eleven children, 100 grandchildren and thirty-two great grandchildren. It is said that the family is known as peace lovers, none having ever been in court other than as witnesses.

A cat once had the misfortune to break one of its forelegs and was carefully tended by its owner. One of the members of the family, a kind hearted old woman, was especially kind to the animal and gave it numerous extra delicacies. In due time the cat recovered, but it had the wit to see the connection between its broken leg and the solicitude of the woman and accordingly concealed the fact. When unobserved it ran about like any other cat, but on the approach of the tender hearted woman immediately began limping on three legs.

CITY MANAGER ASHBURNER DISCUSSES CHARTER FORM

Man Who Manages Affairs of Springfield and Has Saved Tens of Thousands of Dollars to City, Says Charter Form of Government Only Solution for Smaller Cities.

The following article on "The City Manager Form of Government For Smaller Cities" is written by Mr. Charles E. Ashburner, City Manager of Springfield, Ohio.

"It seems strange that a form of government for cities that bids fair to be the most popular of all the many plans, should have come into existence by accident,—but such is the case.

"During 1907, the leading citizens of Staunton, Virginia, tired of the wasteful methods employed in the management of the city's affairs began an agitation for a commission form of government,—the only remedy then known for the council form of mismanagement. The State Constitution of Virginia put an end to their dreams for a while at least. Then as the sun appears through the clouds after a thunder storm, came the words in the charter of the city of Staunton "and such other employees as they may deem necessary and designate their duties." The general manager plan was born.

"After much wrangling and after a great deal of shifting of positions, the following ordinance was passed by a small majority:

AN ORDINANCE CREATING THE OFFICE OF A GENERAL MANAGER FOR THE CITY OF STAUNTON, VIRGINIA.

"Be it ordained by the Council of the City of Staunton, Virginia,

1. That there be appointed by the two branches of the Council in joint session as soon as possible after the adoption of this resolution and thereafter annually at the regular election of city officers, in July of each year an officer to be known and designated as "General Manager."

2. The General Manager (except in case of the first appointment under this resolution, which shall be until the next regular election of city officers in July, 1908) shall hold office for the term of one year and until his successor is duly elected and qualified, unless sooner removed by the council at its pleasure.

3. The General Manager shall be paid an annual salary of . . . dollars, and he shall have the right to employ one clerk at a salary of . . . dollars per annum, to be paid by the city, the amount to be hereafter fixed by the Council.

4. The General Manager shall devote his entire time to the duties of his office, and shall have entire charge and control of all the executive work of the city in its various departments, and have entire charge and control of the head of departments and employees of the city. He shall make all contracts for labor and supplies and in general perform all of the administrative executive work now performed by the several standing committees of the Council, except the Finance ordinance and Auditing Committees. The General Manager shall discharge such other duties as may from time to time be required of him by the Council."

5. The General Manager before entering upon the duties of his office shall execute a bond before the Clerk of the Council in the penalty of $5,000 with good and sufficient surety, conditioned for the faithful performance of the duties of his office."

"The plan as operated in Staunton with a two-bodied Council,—committees composed of the members of both bodies, who are supposed to be advisory boards to the manager in each department cannot possibly get results that are lasting. So we can put the Staunton plan entirely out of consideration. Credit must, however, be given to those thoughtful men who made the best of their opportunity and started people thinking on the proper lines. It was the Staunton plan that grew into the Sumter plan and coming nearer home, we have the Dayton and Springfield charters as direct descendants of the general manager plan. The manager plan with a small commission of three or five with a hired manager, is, in my opinion, the only possible solution of the municipal problem in small cities.

"The management of municipal corporations is one of the most complex lines of business management known to man,—it is impossible for a man without a peculiar line of experience and one who will give an unlimited amount of thought and study to successfully handle the many different lines of business.

"Councilmen cannot do it during the time they give to city affairs. The head of a department devoting all his energies toward the success of the department, does not see where he can improve the efficiency of the city's business by a combination with the man at the head of some other department and even if he does see a chance to improve things by such combination in some instances, he has trouble to make the other departmental manager see through the same glasses,—for these reasons, to say nothing of petty jealousies, we have a lack of the harmony necessary for the best results. The trained city manager with authority, being equally interested in all the departments, is the only man who can bring harmony out of conflict and order out of chaos.

"There are some advocates of the commission form where the commissioners divide the work, each taking the management of some department. If there is success in that form of government in small cities, I think it can only be a matter of luck. How can voters select men, three or four, who have knowledge of the branches of government they are supposed to manage? Again the salaries necessary to pay three or four competent men is prohibitory in a small city.

"No man can successfully manage any branch of municipal affairs unless he devotes his entire time, thought and energies to the particular work and if he does this he will become absorbed in his particular branch and be unable to do justice to other branches when he meets with the other commissioners on the general business of the city. Imagine three perfect departmental heads, all of whom are commissioners, meeting and trying to be unbiased in the division of the tax duplicate. Show me a good department head, I will show you a bad commissioner. The only possible connecting link between the legislative and the operative branches is the hired manager. The commissioner is the director,—he is the same man you find in the Standard Oil Company, the railroad, the bank, the local ice company or in any other corporation. He is the keen business man who does not pretend to interfere with the operating machinery but who knows when the man at the helm (the manager) is delivering the goods.

"It has been argued that men suitable for managers of cities are hard to find. True,—because there has been small demand for such an article, but I am sure that they will develop as rapidly as the demand,—so this is merely a ghost trouble. The real trouble with the business management of small cities is the fact that in small communities each citizen knows more about his neighbors business than he does himself and such familiarity makes men cowardly when it comes to doing their duty if such duty should offend their neighbor.

"The hired manager's future in life is dependent upon his fearless discharge of his duties. He may be turned down and crushed temporarily but the business men of this country are looking for such men. Another argument in favor of the hired employee,—I hope I have not wearied you with my arguments for my manager form I believe it is right and having convinced myself at least, I will try and show you the working plan of organization. First the commissioners, three or five, with nominal salary as a board of directors one of whom (selected by the commission, to be President of the body) and for all legal purposes to occupy the position of Mayor. The commission to hire a manager who shall hold office during the pleasure of the commission.

"The treasurer, auditor and solicitor should also be appointed by the commission, but every other city employee should be appointed by the city manager, who should, of course, be broad enough to allow the heads of departments to select their help. The manager armed with this authority should be held to strict account for results and should be removed whenever the commission find that they can improve the service by his absence.

"Nothing but strict, impartial, unbiased, honest and fearless business should be tolerated in any city hall.

"American can and does produce the type of man necessary and as soon as public conscience is aroused that will support such men, they will come out of the service of the big corporations and give their time to the citizens of our municipalities. Heretofore few clean men have been willing to accept the mud and slime of politics thrown upon those who dare to do their duty."

WANTS NEW TRIAL

Monday afternoon motion for a new trial in the case of Ernest Robinson, found guilty of bootlegging, was argued before Mayor Oster, the defendant being represented by F. A. Chaffin.

Mayor Oster took the matter under advisement.

ROBINSON BUYS PARTNERSHIP IN THE KATZ STORE

Mr. Chas. Robinson and Mr. Leo Katz have purchased the interests of Mr. N. Nusbaum in the Katz & Company gents clothing store in this city and Mr. Robinson succeeds Mr. Nusbaum in the partnership, becoming the junior partner of the firm, and will assist Mr. Katz in the active management of the store.

Mr. Robinson who has had many years of experience in the clothing business in the employ of Mr. Katz, is well and favorably known in this city, and is a young man of sterling qualities and is highly qualified for the new responsibilities which are carried with the change of partners.

As heretofore the firm name will remain Katz & Company, and the business will be conducted as heretofore. It has been noticeable that Mr. Katz, in finding partners in his various stores has picked young men for the places, and men whom he has every reason to believe are "live wires" in the business world.

The elevator in the Katz building will be removed in the near future and a handsome new front is to be installed after the first of the year.

Mr. Katz has just closed a lease on the building which will not expire until 1932.

COMPANY M TO GO WEDNESDAY

Major Rell G. Allen Will Have Charge of Train Carrying Local Company and Others — Will Not Pass Through This City, But Go to Chicago on Way to the Border.

Company M, Fourth Regiment, Ohio Infantry, will leave Wednesday for the Mexican border, unless orders to the contrary are received, a thing which is not looked for.

Company M left this city eight weeks ago, after being mobilized at the local armory some three weeks, and since that time has been in Camp Willis, undergoing special training and becoming seasoned for active service, although at the present time the active service probably will be nothing more than light patrol duty on the border.

The Fifth Regiment left Camp Willis Tuesday, going by way of this city and Cincinnati, and the Fourth leaves Wednesday by a different route, passing through northwestern Ohio and going by way of Chicago.

It is possible that the Fourth will be held in Chicago for some little time, and may never go further than that point.

Major Rell G. Allen will have charge of one of the trains carrying the Fourth, and which will carry Company M, of this city. Tourist sleepers will be used for transporting the men and Pullman coaches for the officers. General John C. Speaks also will be aboard Major Allen's train, it is understood.

Company M ranks among the best companies of the Fourth, and contains 94 officers and men.

GREASE IGNITES ALARM TURNED IN

When a pan full of grease in an oven in the kitchen of the Manhattan restaurant on East Court street became too hot and ignited, about 8:30 Tuesday morning, the flames and dense smoke drove the kitchen force from the basement and an alarm was turned in, bringing the fire department to the scene.

It seems that no chemical was handy at the time the fire started so that it was necessary to throw a small amount of water to quench the flames, which scorched the flooring but did very little damage.

The dense smoke pouring from the basement windows caused some little excitement until the department turned the water on.

COUNTY BOARD HOLDS MEETING

Bryce Bell Chosen to Succeed Self as County Examiner—Territory Again Transferred—Meeting Held Last Night Instead of on Regular Meeting Day.

The County Board of Education held a meeting about 7:45 Monday night instead of on the regular meeting day, Tuesday, and it was a short time before the session that some of the members received notice of the change in the time and date, it is claimed. Minnick was absent.

The chief question considered was the choosing of a county examiner to succeed Bryce Bell. The first vote stood two for Bell and two for G. L. Everhart, but on the second ballot it was unanimous for Bell, who was named for two years. It is rumored that a change will occur in the Board of Examiners within the next three months.

Petitions were then submitted asking for the transfer of four sub-districts in Paint township which had been placed in Jefferson township, back into Paint, and this was done.

Another petition was for the transfer of two sub-districts which previously had been transferred from Union to Concord, back into Union. This was done. In both instances the change is not to become effective until next June. It was explained that maps had to be made before the transfers could become effective.

A petition to transfer four sub-districts which had been transferred from Jasper to Concord township, but a tie vote resulted and no further action was taken.

He had left the Grove home under the pretext that he was going to Xenia to see a sister in the hospital at that point, and removed all of his belongings.

When he took all clothing, and was gone before this was discovered, Mrs. Grove, upon learning of his French leave, applied to the police, with the above result.

CONGRESS TO HEAR PRESIDENT

Railroad Situation to Be Given an Airing.

DECISION OF PRESIDENT

Will Appear Before Congress and Recommend Legislation Aimed to Avert the Threatened Nation-wide Railroad Strike—Program Calls for Eight-Hour Day and Increased Rate. Conferences With Leaders.

Washington, Aug. 29.—President Wilson has decided to go before Congress and recommend legislation aimed to avert the threatened nation-wide railroad strike. He is at work on his message in which he will tell members of the senate and house the negotiations to date and lay before them a definite legislative program.

In his conference with the members of the senate Democratic legislative steering committee, President Wilson not only asked advice regarding the desirability of his laying the whole railroad situation before Congress in a personal address, but discussed with them problems of legislation to prevent a nation-wide strike; or in the event of a strike, to keep the roads in operation for national necessities. He disclosed to the committee the essential points in the protracted negotiations he has conducted for two weeks with railroad presidents and managers and the representatives of the brotherhoods.

Senator Kern, chairman of the committee, said the committee was in full accord with the president regarding the advisability of addressing Congress and that a joint session would be arranged to hear him.

"We have undertaken the framing of a general bill," said Senator Newlands, chairman of the interstate commerce committee, "regarding the various phases of legislation that will be necessary to meet this railroad situation. We reached no conclusion except as to the general scope of legislation that will be required. The purpose is to take as a basis for this legislation the bill to enlarge the interstate commerce commission. To meet the emergency we are considering also legislation fixing an eight-hour work day for railroad employees; an increase in revenue to the railroads to meet greater expense of operation due to the adoption of the eight-hour day, and amendment to the existing arbitration laws. We are considering applying to the arbitration law the Canadian principle which would prohibit a strike or lockout pending negotiations and for a period of sixty days following a decision in any controversy. With reference to the eight-hour day there is being discussed the advisability of making legislation providing for it effective at a time far enough in the future to permit the railroads to adjust their affairs."

In addition to this proposed constructive legislation the president and his advisers also have under consideration the problem of legislation in the event of a strike, to keep the railroads in operation.

VETERANS MAKE MANY SACRIFICES

Saved Money For Months to Attend Encampment.

Kansas City, Aug. 29.—That the Union veterans of the civil war for months made great personal sacrifices so as to be able to attend the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, in session here, was the statement made by Captain Elias R. Monfort, commander-in-chief of the blue-clad veterans.

"The boys have saved their money for months to attend this encampment," said Captain Monfort. "Some of them are not well fixed in worldly goods, but they were eager to come here and march in the annual parade and to shake hands with their battle comrades. I've known men who should have spent their pension money for food and clothing, but saved it for this reunion."

Cool weather will make it possible for the veterans to take a more active part in the celebration than had been expected.

The sessions of all the organizations will start tomorrow afternoon, following the annual parade of the veterans in the morning.

Four candidates, who wish to succeed Captain Monfort as commander-in-chief of the army, have appeared. They are William J. Patterson of Pittsburgh; J. Payson Bradley of Boston; Patrick H. Coney of Topeka and Lee Hunt Dodge of Berea, Ky. The election will be held Friday.

STARTS YOUNG

(By American Press)

Brownstown, Ind., Aug. 29.—Herschel Phillips, seventeen, was taken to the reformatory at Jeffersonville. He was arrested here charged with attempting to rob the State bank at Medora, Ind., and with shooting the cashier, Miss Mera Hunsucker, who may recover. The youth, according to Sheriff Van Robertson, made a written confession, saying he became frightened after his demand for $5,000 had been refused by Miss Hunsucker, and fired his revolver without intending to wound her. After leaving the bank Phillips went into a cornfield nearby, discarded a long overcoat and later joined the armed posse of citizens who surrounded the field. The finding of the overcoat furnished the clue on which Phillips' arrest was based.

TO ATTACK TEUTONS IN REAR

Roumanians Seeking Entry Into Transylvania.

WAR FORMALLY DECLARED

Bucharest Announcement Is Followed by a Similar Declaration from the German Capital—Million More Men Thrown Into the Great Conflict. Hard Fighting on the Several Battle Fronts.

London, Aug. 29.—Berlin announced that Germany is at war with Roumania. This followed Roumania's declaration of war against Austria-Hungary.

Troops of King Ferdinand already are seeking entry into the plains of Transylvania, through the eastern Carpathians toward Kronstadt, the chief city of Germanstadt, and in the direction of Germanstadt, evidently in an endeavor to press northward through Transylvania toward the Bukovina and Galicia borders and to take in the rear the Austro-Germans trying to hold back the Russians from entering the plains of Hungary.

Nothing has come through to indicate what preparation has been made by the Bulgarians to offset a probable attack by the Roumanians along the Danube frontier, and possible attempts of Russians at invasion by means of the Danube and through Dobruja or by the Black Sea.

Roumania's entrance into the war places a thoroughly drilled and equipped army of nearly 600,000 men alongside the allies. Of the actual fighting value of the Roumanian army nothing definite can yet be told, as it has never been put to the test. During the two recent Balkan wars Roumania, of all the Balkan states, alone kept out of the struggle. The organization and equipment of the Roumanian army has been praised by many experts. Roumania's military service is obligatory on all able-bodied men between twenty-one and forty-six years of age. This gives the country 50,000 new soldiers a year and enables Roumania, out of a population of 7,000,000, to muster an army of over 500,000.

Roumania's Decision.

Roumania's decision was reached at a meeting of the crown council, summoned by King Ferdinand. It came at the end of two years of anxious waiting as the Roumanian diplomats watched with tense interest the military fortunes of the allies. The Roumanian declaration is expected to signal Greece's early entrance into the war on the side of the allies.

Along the lines where the Teutonic allies are in contact with the Serbians, British and French, Berlin and Paris report additional gains for their respective forces. Berlin records the capture of heights south of Zhorosko by the Serbians and the repulse of the Serbian counter attacks on Mount Saganska, while Paris says the Serbians have made considerable progress near Vetrebnia and have repulsed Bulgarian attacks on the road from Banica Stovo. Sofia reports, however, Bulgarian occupation of positions abandoned by the Greeks west of Kavala, on the Aegean Sea. Artillery engagements and mine operations again have characterized fighting in France and Belgium. The French report further progress east of Deville wood and near the Mouquet farm, in the Somme region.

London reports the shelling of British positions by the Germans, especially between Pozieres and the Thiepval wood, and reciprocal bombardments at other points. A German attack near Fleury failed.

From the Riga region to the Carpathian passes, there have been isolated engagements at various points between the Russians and the Austro-Germans, but no notable successes. Hard fighting is in progress between the Russians and the Turks in the Lake Van region and north of Bitlis. In the latter region the Turks have been driven back southward by a Russian counter attack, losing men and guns.

BLIND, BUT THEY KNOW WORLD'S DOINGS THANKS TO SOCIETY WOMEN'S READINGS

THEY SEE THE WORLD THROUGH ANOTHER'S EYES

One of the most interesting of New York charities is depicted herewith. It shows Mrs. G. F. Gould, well known in society, reading to the inmates of the Home For Destitute Blind. It really puts many seeing women to shame to discuss the topics of the day with these blind women, for they are "up" in anything in the way of current events, and they can discuss the changes in the map of Europe with accuracy and fluency. As for political gossip, civic welfare and the many other subjects which appear in the dailies and magazines, they are freely discussed by these blind women. Every morning Mrs. Gould and several other ladies spend hours at the home reading aloud the news. While they read aloud the "eyes" (fingers) of the sightless men and women are busily engaged in their daily work, caning chairs, knitting, sewing, crocheting, etc.

AUTO ROBBERS GET COLLECTOR

He Gets Sum of $3,000 and Makes Good His Escape.

Detroit, Aug. 29.—An automobile bandit held up and robbed the driver of a Standard Oil company collection car on a lonely road near Dearborn, a Detroit suburb. He obtained more than $3,000. John Isbell, driver of the car, was taken from his machine, bound, gagged and left by the roadside. His muffled cries attracted help a few minutes later. Meanwhile the bandit escaped.

Isbell told Sheriff Oakman that as he came to a stop the bandit pointed a pistol at him and, being unarmed, he was compelled to surrender a small bag containing about $3,000 collected from various gasoline distributing stations just outside the Detroit city limits.

An attempt to cry for help, Isbell said, was silenced with a blow over the eye and order to "shut up." After putting the bag in his own car the bandit bound and gagged Isbell and dragged him into the bushes at the roadside. He then re-entered his own car and drove away. Isbell's cries later attracted a workman, who released him.

Berlin, Aug. 29.—The German emperor has ordered postponement until after the war of the execution of all sentences imposed for the punishment of French prisoners, both civilian and military, on account of acts committed up to Sept. 1 of this year. This action was taken as a result of a reciprocal agreement with the French government.

Rome, Aug. 29.—Italy declared war on Germany because Germany sent both land and sea forces to the aid of Austria, enabling her to concentrate her maximum efforts against Italy, said an official statement issued here. Excepting the capture of Goritz, no event of several months has so stirred the Italian public as the news of Italy's challenge to the kaiser. A great procession paraded the principal streets, shouting "Down with Germany!" and "Long Live the Allies!"

TROOPERS ON WAY TO BORDER

Fifth Ohio Regiment Leaves For El Paso.

OTHER DIVISIONS TO MOVE

Columbus, Aug. 29.—The first contingent of Ohio troops is now on its way to the Mexican border. The Fifth regiment, under Colonel C. N. Zimmerman, Cleveland, left this afternoon for El Paso, Tex.

The Fourth regiment, Colonel B. F. Bargar, Columbus, commences leaves tomorrow, and the Eighth, under Colonel Edward Vollrath, Bucyrus, goes Thursday.

The regiments to move today to morrow and Thursday constitute the Second Brigade, under General John C. Speaks of Columbus. The brigade general and his staff will go with the Fourth regiment.

There will be a continuous movement of troops from the camp until all are gone, unless present plans are changed, said Major Charles Miller, chief federal officer.

The Fifth regiment entrained in three sections at the Broad Street station of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern railroad, and goes south via Cincinnati and New Orleans. The Fourth will board trains at Fifth avenue and the Hocking Valley and go via Chicago and Kansas City. The Eighth boards at Duffy's station, west of the camp, and goes via St. Louis.

Although the Fourth will be the second to leave Columbus, it probably will be the first to arrive at El Paso, as its route is much shorter than that of the Fifth. The Fourth expects to be on the way for four or five days. Ten days' rations are furnished the men upon departure.

The soldiers have been furnished with two pairs of shoes each, two blankets, an overcoat and most of them with sweaters.

The Fifth regiment men last night slept in their "pup" tents, each accommodating two.

A dispatch from Washington gives a new ruling of the war department. It says that students enlisted in the Ohio militia and drafted into service will not be released after all, except in cases where whole organizations are made up of students, and in such cases the organizations will be released as a whole. The great number of would-be students who are scattered through various militia organizations will be held in the service.

Gloria's Romance

SYNOPSIS.

Pierpont Stafford, banker and railroad magnate, with his sixteen-year-old daughter, Gloria, is wintering at Palm Beach. Gloria is a vivacious but willful young lady who chafes under the restraining hand of a governess from whom she repeatedly escapes. Her childish capers cause young Doctor Freneau to fall in love with her. She steals from her room at night and in an auto plunges into the surf where she leaves the car. Becoming lost in the everglades she falls into the hands of the Seminole Indians. She is rescued and returned to her father, who had offered a reward for her return. Gloria falls in love with her rescuer, Freneau. Five years later she leaves school and meets Freneau at the theater; his attention having been occupied with his sister-in-law, he has forgotten Gloria. Gloria feels that her one dream is shattered. Later Freneau persuades her to forgive him. Gloria's sister-in-law, Lois, becomes intensely jealous and Doctor Freneau discovers in her an ally to assist in thwarting Freneau.

On the following day, all arrangements having been made by telephone to the Stafford country place, Gloria took Barroughs with her and motored out. They were met by a glowing and enthusiastic Freneau at the railroad station. Gloria took him to her warm-weather home, which managed to keep a majestic appearance in its mantle of snow.

The dogs started a wild hullabaloo of ferocity from their kennels when the car drove in. They changed their excited barks to yelps of welcome as they recognized Gloria. But she left them disconsolate for a groom brought up from the stable yard her shaggy ponies harnessed to the little Russian sleigh.

As she stopped to pet the noses of the ponies Freneau lost for a moment his confidence in his own power to win this small young beauty enveloped in a great coat, which made her seem smaller still, her eyes beaming, her cheeks flushed with the cold, her delicate pink blonde curls escaping from the little fur-trimmed hat.

With this palatial background, among the obsequious attendants, she stood, more than ever for him, the embodiment of power, youth, beauty, wealth. What had he to offer in exchange for that worldly trinity? Spoiled by women as he was he felt that however sincerely he wanted this slip of a girl—wanted her more than he had ever wanted anyone else in his life—she might elude him.

Gloria turned to him with a bright smile, and seeing the look of adoration in his eyes, blushed an even deeper rose than she had been wearing.

"I think we had better start at once if we are to get our sleigh ride," she said. "The days are so short now; we must make the most of this stinging sunlight."

"Right!" Freneau answered eagerly as he helped her into the sleigh.

The ponies were champing at the bits and jingling the bells and waving the pompons on their heads with every impatient movement. Gloria stepped into the driver's seat (she was going to drive them herself, wise girl!) and Freneau snatched the sable robe from the hands of a groom, saw that her little feet were in place on the foot warmer, and proceeded to wrap her snugly in. (How nicely he did things of that sort, she thought.)

HOW FATAL BOMB WAS MADE

The Scrap Book

Too Much Ornithology.

Some years ago Carl Crow, the author, was a cub reporter on a newspaper, one of his duties being to cover the police station. One day just before press time he made his usual trip to see the desk sergeant.

"Have a great story for you," said the sergeant. "We arrested a parrot out on Front street awhile ago on a charge of using abusive language. The neighbors complained so much we had to go out and lock the old bird up."

After getting a few more details Crow rushed back to the office and wrote a funny story about the arrest of the bird. He was congratulating himself on landing a story on the first page an hour or so after the paper got out on the streets when the telephone bell rang and he had to listen to a torrent of abuse from an irate lady at the other end of the line. It developed that she was Mrs. Parrot and she had been arrested for using abusive language, but she bitterly resented being written up as a bird. After she had exhausted her vocabulary and was preparing for a new start she asked:

"What is your name?"
"Crow," said the reporter.
"What did you say?"
"I said my name was Crow."
"You think you are blamed smart, don't you?" said the freshly insulted Mrs. Parrot as she hung up the receiver.—Exchange.

Sweet Content.

Sweet are the thoughts that savor of content.
The quiet mind is richer than a crown.
Sweet are the nights in careless slumbers spent.
The poor estate scorns Fortune's angry frown.

Such sweet content, such minds, such sleep, such bliss,
Beggars enjoy when princes oft do miss.

The homely house that harbors quiet rest,
The cottage that affords no price nor care,
The mean that greets with country music best,
The sweet consort of mirth and modest fare—

Obscured life sets down a type of bliss,
A mind content both crown and kingdom is.

—Robert Greene.

Charlotte Rooster.

Samuel O'Keefe, a retired Wall Street man, is almost a daily visitor at a hospital for joint diseases, where a friend is receiving treatment. There are many invalid children at the hospital and Mr. O'Keefe often takes them candy, and on one memorable occasion imported a consignment of Charlotte russe.

A day or two following the Charlotte russe festival he visited the children's ward again and was greeted by loud shouts of approval. His arrival was first noted by a little boy, said by the nurses to be "as smart as a whip," who shouted gleefully:

"Oh, look! here comes the Charlotte rooster!"

Under the circumstances Mr. O'Keefe felt that any further refreshment ought to be "on him."—New York Sun.

A Real Puzzle.

Erna Haskins, constable of a New England village, had an exalted opinion of his ability as a detective. He also read everything he could find on the career of Sherlock Holmes, until he imagined that he had thereby acquired wonderful deductive abilities. "Now, gentlemen," said he, on one occasion to his assistants in a particular case, "we have traced these clues—the footprints of the horse and the footprints of the man, right up here to this stump, from the stump on there's only the footprints of the horse. Now, gentlemen, the question arises: What has become of the man?"

RABBIT'S EYE FOR GIRL.

Surgeons Will Operate Upon a Little Eskimo Lass.

Portland, Ore.—New York's best surgeons will endeavor to restore the sight of Melba, a seven-year-old Eskimo girl, who was found deserted in an igloo by Dr. L. H. French, United States government physician in Alaska.

The corner of a rabbit will be grafted upon one affected eye and a contract removed from the other.

In charge of Mrs. Corinne Call, a government teacher, the child arrived in Portland recently. Mrs. Call says the Eskimos left Melba in the ice hut, hoping she would die. She has been totally blind for five years. The trouble is diagnosed as an eruption of the cornea.

281 Women Run For Office.

Topeka, Kan.—Two hundred and eighty-one women in Kansas are running for office. Ten want state or district offices. Two hundred and seventy-one are out for county offices. Ninety-two of these are candidates for reelection.

BIG BUSINESS DEAL CLOSED IN THIS CITY

Mrs. S. D. Morgan Trades 19 Residences, Store, Business Block and Four Vacant Lots for 475 Acre Farm in Franklin County.

Another of a series of big realty transactions turned by Ben Jamison during the past two years, has just been closed, whereby nineteen residence properties, a store building, two story brick business structure and four vacant lots in this city, owned by Mrs. S. D. Morgan, have been transferred to Messrs. P. C. Ballard and M. S. Daugherty, trustees and a farm of approximately 475 acres in Washington and Concord townships, Franklin County, becomes the property of Mrs. Morgan.

The nineteen residences in question are located on South Main street, Oak street, Elm street and S. Hinde street, and the store room is located on the corner of S. Main and Elm streets. The vacant lots are located in the block with the residences.

The business block is immediately back of the Katz & Co. store, extending from the rear of the store to the alley, the first floor of which is occupied by Oatmeal's barber shop and The M. Hamm Company's office.

Negotiations for the big deal have been under way for some little time, but were not closed until this week. It is probably the first time in the history of the city that so many residence properties have changed hands in one block.

The farm which is now the property of Mrs. Morgan is not far from Columbus and one of the best farms in that part of the state.

Two more suits for damages have been filed in the Pickaway county common pleas court, growing out of the terrible wreck at Orient, August 12, 1915, in which seven persons were killed and many badly injured when a freight train rounded a curve and struck the rear wooden coaches of a B. & O. excursion train.

Grover Gerhardt, one of the victims, has brought suit for $10,000 damages, and the other suit is by Charles Gerhardt, who as administrator of Frederick Gerhardt who died of injuries sustained in the wreck, asks $20,000 damages.

The suits are two of the large number aggregating tens of thousands of dollars.
